

Mary Laurene Browne

Sister Mary Laurene Browne, OSF, is a passionate Educator and is the past Principal at Stella Maris Polytechnic, the only tertiary institution of the Catholic Archdiocese of Monrovia.

She is the creator of the OYSS (Ordinary Yet Significant Steps) necessary to enhance quality education in Liberia consisting of Readers and other text books written by Liberians in collaboration with the Ministry of Education for Liberian schools. Sister is the Producer and Presenter of Reading Time and Education Forum on Radio Veritas 98.7 and Teach FM 92.7

Her ardent pursuit of Education took her first to Our Lady of Fatima High School in Harper, then on to Alvernia College/University in Pennsylvania, USA. She attended The Sorbonne in Paris, France and Schiller University and finally to Boston College in the USA where she earned a diploma as well as Bachelor and Master degrees.

She further honed her writing skills with the Long Ridge Writer's Association of West Redding, Connecticut where she obtained a Diploma.